News story #1      Marijuana will be legal in Canada (0:13)

Setting the Scene

CBC News has learned that the federal government will announce the week of April 10 that new legislation will make the sale of marijuana legal by July 1, 2018. (Mark Blinch/Canadian Press) (CBC file photo)

Currently marijuana is illegal in Canada. The Liberal government has said that this system of prohibiting the use of marijuana does stop people from using marijuana. Instead, many young people have criminal records after being caught with small amounts of marijuana. The police and the criminal justice system are using valuable resources to catch people with small amounts of marijuana, when they could use those resources to pursue more dangerous criminals. The Liberal government has also explained that if the government legalizes marijuana, they would have better control over who is able to use it and they would keep the profits out of the hands of criminals. When the Liberals won the federal election in 2015, they said they would legalize marijuana.

Pre-listening Questions

What do you know about marijuana? Is it commonly used in your country?

What is your country's law about marijuana?

Do you know of any medical benefits of using marijuana?

News story #2    Oilers headed to the playoffs (1:34)

Setting the Scene

The Edmonton Oilers clinched a playoff spot Tuesday night, their first one in 11 years. (THE CANADIAN PRESS/Jason Franson) (CBC file photo)

There are 30 teams in the National Hockey League (NHL), 23 in the U.S. and 7 in Canada. The top 16 teams (top 8 in the eastern conference and top 8 in the western conference) of the regular season go on to the Stanley Cup playoffs or post season. The playoffs are a long tournament in which teams try to beat each other and move on. The most successful team wins the Stanley Cup. When the Oilers went to the playoffs in 2006, they made it all the way to the final game, but they lost to the Carolina Hurricanes. Edmonton Oilers fans have been waiting a long time for the Oilers to make it to the playoffs again.

Pre-listening Questions

Transcripts of Weekly news stories

	APRIL WEEKLY NEWS STORIES	TIME
Introduction	Hi, I'm Don Bell and this is Learning English with the CBC April 3 rd with stories that made news over the past week.	0:00
Story 1	Marijuana will be legal in Canada next summer. The Alberta government is preparing its own laws on pricing and age restrictions. On July 1, 2018, Ottawa will legalize the use of marijuana for people 18 and older, but the provinces will have the option of raising the age limit if they choose to. Provinces will also be able to decide how cannabis is sold and distributed. The marijuana industry is getting ready. Aaron Bott has been pushing for cannabis legalization for 15 years. He worked in an Edmonton dispensary before it was shut down by police in 2015. He says he'll think about opening up a shop again once legalization happens. Meanwhile, Aurora Cannabis is building the world's largest pot growing facility near the Edmonton International Airport. The company's executive vice president Cam Battley says a firm legalization date is good news for the industry.	0:13
Story 2	After the Edmonton Oilers clinched a spot in the post-season with a win Tuesday night over the Los Angeles Kings, preparations have started for a safe and riot-free playoff run. The last time the Oilers were in the playoffs in 2006, there were riots on Whyte Avenue. Murray Davison, executive director of the Old Strathcona Business Association, says lessons were learned from the 2006 riots. He adds that with the new arena in the downtown, the celebrations should happen over a wider area in both downtown and Whyte Avenue. Ian O'Donnell, executive director of the downtown business association, says that is certainly what some downtown restaurant and bar owners are hoping for.	1:34
Story 3	Berlin police say thieves broke into the German capital's Bode Museum and stole a massive 100-kilogram gold coin from the Royal Canadian Mint that is worth millions of dollars. Known as the "Big Maple Leaf" and measuring three-centimetres thick with a diameter of 53 centimetres, the coin has a portrait of the Queen on one side and maple leaves on the other. It has a value of 1 million dollars, but by weight alone the metal in the coin could be worth more than 5 million. Police said Tuesday at least two burglars broke into the museum early Monday morning using a ladder to climb up to a window from railway tracks running alongside the building. The thieves grabbed the "Big Maple Leaf", put it onto a wheelbarrow, then carted it out of the building and left in a getaway car.	2:38
